

FIRST SIGNERS . . . for the fourth annual Salute to King Harbor at Avalon, Catalina, April 26 and 27 are Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Ustick, owners of the Sea Castle berthed at Port Royal Marina. The Usticks and son Greg and their dog, Smokey, live aboard their boat. They participated last year for the first time.

260 Boats Enter Catalina Salute

The fourth annual Salute to Redondo Beach King Harbor at Avalon, Catalina, is off to its best start with 260 boats already signed up for the April 26 and 27 event. A record 240 boats participated last year.

Of the early signers, 73 are from Redondo Beach, 37 from Torrance, and 31 from the Palos Verdes area, the remainder are from in and around the Los Angeles area and from as far east as Redlands.

The big day is April 26, which will be climaxed with a dinner-dance at the Casino Ballroom, a teenage dance at El Encanto, and a kiddie movie at the Casino.

The event is jointly sponsored by the Redondo Beach King Harbor Lessee's Association and the Chamber of Commerce. Dick Fitzgerald, chamber manager, and Harrison Daigh, representing the city, will coordinate the affair.

Tickets for a bottle of champagne, burgees, and badges for owners and guests will be at marina offices prior to the start April 26, 7 to 9 a.m. Dash plaques will be mailed to owners later.

Coast Guard boats will patrol the route, with auxiliary boats stationed every five miles along the way.

Hotel reservations may be obtained from the chamber at Avalon.

The Mail Ego

By Terrance O'Flaherty

"Why don't you give us a little more gossip about the celebrities? There must be plenty of keyholes to look through in Hollywood."

There are. They are the most-looked-through keyholes in the world. Some of them even have telescopic sights attached. But the last time I bent over to look through one, all I saw was Sheila Graham peeking back out.

"What will become of Robert Morse when 'That's Life' goes off the air?"

He plans to play golf for a solid week at the Greenbrier Hotel, then go home and enter magazine contests. After that, he can always re-read his script for "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." He's disappointed but he'll be back.

"You probably never heard of Ina Ray Hutton but she and her all-girl band were very big in Hollywood some years ago. Why didn't she stay on TV longer? There's a lot you could do on television with an all-girl band."

Yes, but there's a lot more you CAN'T do. Miss Hutton was famous for throwing herself into her work and out of her costume. And there's something strange about watching a slide trombonist playing "Alexander's Ragtime Band" in a satin dress.

"What has become of Dick Benjamin who was the 'he' in the TV series 'He and She'?"

He'll soon be seen in "Columbus, Columbus" a new movie by Philip Roth (author of "Portnoy's Complaint") in which he plays a young man of the Jewish lower middle class with his eyes on the Jewish upper middle class. It is supposed to do for Benjamin what "The Graduate" did for Dustin Hoffman.

"Looking over the past 15 years of viewing I find my favorite comedians were Bob Newhart and George Goebel. Why didn't they survive?"

Americans buy their cars to last about five years, their clothes to last two and their homes to hold together until they're paid for. With the exception of Benny, Hope and Skelton, the public buys its TV comedians to last about three years.

"What do the other Negro stars on TV think of Diahann Carroll's series 'Julia'?"

Most of them think it's nothing more than another situation comedy and no more a reflection of the black housewife than Lucille Ball represents white mothers. The series is a great personality boost for Miss Carroll but not much else.

"I have just bought myself a Nehru jacket but now after watching the 'Pizzazz' fashion show on TV I'm afraid I made a mistake. Is Nehru still in?"

I think you picked the wrong Indian. I'm betting on Ghandi as the next fashion setter. He dressed cooler and his neckband never rubbed.
